

JEWELLERY

What's hot now

The latest jewellery trends, the names to know and the new must-have pieces for a beautifully botanic autumn BY LINN LY

Full bloom
 Dior's diamond and emerald necklace is part of a new collection that designer Victoire de Castellane describes as the ultimate encounter between haute couture and haute jewelry.

THE TREND NATURAL WORLD
 From Dior's ethereal jewel pieces to Gianfranco Ferré's gold leaf accessories, the season's couture collections have captured us with a focus on elegant, nature-inspired beauty. Tap into the greenery subline. Look with layers of delicate gold.

Secret garden party
 Erdem's signature bold prints are the perfect way to indulge in the winter florals trend. Take notes from his A/W show and delve into a world of rich tones and vibrant, blossoming jewels. Add Asprey's elegant pink sapphire brooch for a quintessentially British touch.

BUTTERFLY EFFECT
 Relive the glamour of a bygone era, as seen on this June 1940 Bazaar cover, and add a hint of wildlife to your look with these chic butterfly cuffs. "For me, the crystal symbolises supreme femininity," says Francesco Russo of Sergio Rossi. "The idea of the butterfly in hand-painted enamel evokes the magic of a midnight ball and evocative night-time creatures."

Bazaar loves... bias and headbands. Take inspiration from Valentino's A/W 11 couture show (far left) with a delicate headpiece. Look out for unique Maison Michel designs by Laetitia Crahay (left) at Liberty and Browns.

£11,000, Dior
 £12,000, Gianfranco Ferré
 £1,200, Asprey
 £14,000, Sergio Rossi
 £14,000, Valentino
 £1,200, Asprey
 £14,000, Sergio Rossi
 £14,000, Valentino

